SECTION 3. SPECIFIC REGULATIONS

3.1. In the construction of this ordinance, the rules and definitions contained in this section shall be observed and applied, except when the context clearly indicates otherwise.

3.2. Rules.

3.2-1. Words used in the present tense shall include the future; and words used in the singular number shall include the plural number, and the plural, the singular.

3.2-2. The word "shall" is mandatory and not discretionary.

3.2-3. The word "may" is permissive.

3.2-4. The word "lot" shall include the words "plot," "piece" and "parcel"; the word "building" includes all other structures of every kind regardless of similarity to buildings; and the phrase "used for" shall include the phrases "arranged for," "designed for," "intended for," "maintained for," and "occupied for."

3.2-5. Scope of Regulations.

3.2-5.1. No buildings or structures shall be erected, converted, enlarged, reconstructed or structurally altered, nor shall any building or land be used for any purpose other than is permitted in the district in which the building or land is located.

3.2-6. Permits.

3.2-6.1. No application for a building permit or other permit or license, or for a certificate of occupancy, shall be approved by the zoning administrator, and no permit or license shall be issued by any other city department, which would authorize the use or change in use of any land or building contrary to the provisions of this ordinance, or the erection, moving, alteration, enlargement or occupancy of any building designed or intended to be used for a purpose or in a manner contrary to the provisions of this ordinance.

3.2-7. Zoning maps.

3.2-7.1. The locations and boundaries of the districts established herein are shown upon the zoning map that is hereby incorporated into this ordinance. The zoning map, together with all notations, references and other information shown thereon, and all amendments thereto, shall be a part of this ordinance and shall have the same force and effect as if the zoning map, together with all notations, references and other information shown thereon, were fully set forth and described herein.

3.2-8. New or annexed land.

3.2-8.1. Submerged land heretofore reclaimed or which may be reclaimed hereafter, and land heretofore annexed or which may be annexed to the City of Aurora hereafter, and which is not shown on the zoning map made a part of this ordinance, shall be classified in the R-1 one-family dwelling district until such time as the city council designates the permitted use of the land in accordance with the provisions of this ordinance; provided, however, that the city council may, in the annexation ordinance, specifically determine the zoning district or districts into which such annexed land shall be classified. Where the land heretofore referred to abuts an existing or contemplated highway or street, which contemplated highway or street, in the opinion of the plan commission and the city council, may at some time in the future become a four-lane highway or street, then the city council in the case of vacant land shall require the dedication of sufficient land to provide for a future one-hundred foot right-of-way.

3.2-9. Zoning of streets, alleys, public ways and railroad rights-of-way.

3.2-9.1. All streets, alleys, public ways and railroad rights-of-way, if not otherwise specifically designated, shall be deemed to be in the same use district as the property immediately abutting upon such alleys, streets, public ways and railroad rights-of-way. Where the centerline of a street, alley, public way or railroad right-of-way serves as a district boundary, the zoning of such areas, unless otherwise specifically designated, shall be deemed to be the same as that of the abutting property up to such centerline.

3.2-10. Boundary lines.

3.2-10.1. Wherever any uncertainty exists as to the boundary of any use district as shown on the zoning map incorporated herein, the following rules shall apply:

- A. Where district boundary lines are indicated as following streets, alleys or similar rights-of-way, they shall be construed as following the centerlines thereof.
- B. Where district boundary lines are indicated as approximately following lot lines, such lot lines shall be construed to be such boundaries.
- C. Where a lot held in one (1) ownership and of record at the effective date of this ordinance is divided by a district boundary line, the entire lot shall be construed to be within the less restricted district; provided that this construction shall not apply if it increases the area of the less restricted portion of the lot by more than twenty (20) percent.

3.2-11. General Provisions

3.2-11.1. Location of buildings.

- A. Except as otherwise provided for in this ordinance, every building shall be constructed or erected upon a lot, or parcel of land, which abuts upon a public street or permanent easement of access to a public street, which easement shall have a minimum width of twenty-five (25) feet, unless an easement of lesser width was on record prior to the adoption of this ordinance.

3.2-11.2. Buildings on a zoning lot.

- A. Every building hereafter erected or structurally altered to provide dwelling units, shall be located on a zoning lot as herein defined and in no case, shall there be more than one (1) such building on one (1) zoning lot, except that in a two-story garage with living quarters upon the second floor such quarters may be occupied by a servant (and his family) of the family occupying the main structure. There may also be constructed a guest house (without kitchen) or rooms for guests within an accessory building, provided such facilities are used for the occasional housing of guests of the occupants of the main structure and not for permanent occupancy by others as a housekeeping unit.

- A. An area indicated on the zoning map as a public park, recreation area, public school site, cemetery, or other similar open space, shall not be used for any other

PERFORMANCE STANDARDS:

Performance standards are criteria established to control noise, odor, glare and heat, exterior lighting, vibration, smoke, toxic or noxious matter, gases, particulate matter, fire and explosion hazards, wastes, and radiation hazards generated by or inherent in uses of buildings, structures, or land. Some of the terms most used in performance standards include but are not limited to the following:

1. Frequency signifies the number of oscillations per second in a sound wave and an index of the pitch of the resulting sound.
2. Noise pollution. The emission of sound that unreasonably interferes with the enjoyment of life or with any lawful business or activity.
3. Noxious matter. Is a material that is capable of causing injury to living organisms by chemical reaction or is capable of causing detrimental effects upon the psychological, social or economic well being of individuals.
4. Octave band. A means of dividing the range of sound frequencies into octaves in order to classify sound according to pitch.
5. Odor. The minimum concentration of odorous matter in the air that can be detected as an odor.
6. Odorous matter. Material that is gas, liquid or solid that causes an odor sensation to a human being.
7. Odor threshold. The minimum concentration of odorous matter in the air that can be detected as an odor. Odor thresholds for many materials and compounds can be found in Table III, Chapter 5, of Air Pollution Abatement Manual, copyright 1951 by the Manufacturing Chemists Association, Inc., Washington, D.C.
8. Opacity means the quality of state of an object that renders it impervious to the rays of light; the degree of nontransparency.
9. Particulate matter. The material, other than water, which is suspended in or discharged into the atmosphere in finely divided form as a liquid or solid such as dust, at atmospheric pressure and temperature.
10. Radiation hazards. The deleterious and harmful effects of all ionizing radiation, which shall include all radiation capable of producing ions in its passage through other matter. Such radiations shall include, but not limited to, electromagnetic radiations such as X-rays and gamma rays and particulate radiations such as electrons or beta particles, protons, neutrons, and alpha particles.

15. Smoke. Small gas-borne particles resulting from incomplete combustion, consisting predominantly but not exclusively of carbon, ash and other combustible material, which form a visible plume in the air.
16. Smoke units. "Smoke units" represent the number obtained by multiplying the smoke density in Ringelmann Numbers by the time of emission in minutes. For the purpose of this calculation, a Ringelmann density reading is made at least once every minute during the period of observation. Each reading is then multiplied by the time in minutes during which it is observed, and the various products are added together to give the total number of smoke units observed during the total period under observation.
17. Toxic material or matter. A substance (liquid, solid, or gaseous) that by reason of an inherent deleterious property tends to destroy life or impair health.
18. Toxic substances. Any gas, liquid, solid, semisolid substance or mixture of substance, which if discharged into the environment could, along or in combination with other substances likely to be present in the environment, cause or threaten to cause bodily injury, illness, or death to members of the general public through ingestion, inhalation, or absorption through any body surface. In addition, substances that are corrosives, irritants, strong sensitizers, or radioactive substances shall be considered toxic substances for the purposes of this ordinance.

Vibration. The motion that repeatedly reverses itself. A continuously reversing motion, such as is produced by a machine (for example, a compressor or a fan) is known as steady-state vibration. Vibration may also result from suddenly applied force, which produces a reversing motion of decreasing intensity. Such vibrations are known as impact vibrations, and are produced by forge hammers, punch
